

Constitution of the International Rogaining Federation Inc.

(A0040409P)

1. Preamble

Rogaining is the sport of long distance cross-country navigation. The championship rogaïne is of 24 hours duration, but there are many variants. Teamwork, endurance, competition, and a respect for the natural environment are features of the sport. Rogaining involves both route planning and navigation between checkpoints and may use a variety of map types.

Rogaining began in April, 1976, with the formation of the Victorian Rogaining Association in Melbourne, Australia. Related events had been organized over the preceding thirty years. The International Rogaining Federation was formed on June 16th, 1989, and is the peak international body for the sport of rogaïne. The Constitution was adopted on June 30th, 2000.

2. Name

The name of the Federation is the 'International Rogaining Federation', which may be abbreviated as IRF.

3. Definitions

In this Constitution, unless the contrary intention appears -

'Member' means a Member of the IRF in accordance with Clause 5.

'Council' means the Council of the IRF in accordance with Clause 6.

'Delegate' means a councillor representing a Member of the IRF in accordance with Clause 6.

'Observer' means a non-voting councillor in accordance with Clause 6.

'Council Meeting' includes both a meeting in person and a meeting where communication is by electronic means.

'Council Vote' refers to the process by which resolutions can be voted on by Council both at and between meetings.

'Votes cast' does not include any abstentions or blank votes that do not indicate a preference on a motion.

'Executive' means the committee of management in accordance with Clause 7.

'Officer' means an Officer of the IRF in accordance with Clause 7.

'In writing' includes electronic transmission such as email or file attachments.

4. Aims

The aims of the International Rogaining Federation are to:

- a) promote and develop the sport of rogaïne internationally;
- b) maintain the fundamental principles and culture of rogaïne;
- c) maintain international rules and technical standards of rogaïne;
- d) promote, award and monitor the World Rogaining Championships;
- e) provide an international focus of communication for participants and organizers of rogaïne events.

5. Membership of the IRF

Membership of the IRF is restricted to National Rogaining Associations. National Rogaining Associations shall not be accepted as members unless they meet the requirements specified in Appendix One. Each member shall be entitled to select two delegates to the IRF Council. A National Rogaining Association may change its delegates at any time by notifying the IRF Council in writing.

6. Council

The Council of the International Rogaining Federation consists of the following people:

- i) Delegates representing the Members of the IRF (see Clause 5).
Each delegate has one vote.
- ii) Officers of the IRF (see Clause 7).
Each officer has one vote.
- iii) Non-voting Observers, namely:
 - a) Elected or appointed administrative managers (see Clause 7).
 - b) Observers co-opted by Council. Council may co-opt individuals for a three year period. Observers may be co-opted to represent specific countries or for other reasons as determined by Council.
 - c) Ex-officio observer - on ceasing office, a past president will automatically continue as an Observer for a three year period unless otherwise determined by Council.
Council can renew or remove an observer at any time.

Responsibility for the IRF is vested in the Council. The Council shall decide on:

- a) all matters involving changes in the policy of the IRF;
- b) changes to the IRF Technical Standards and Rules;
- c) all matters involving changes to the membership of the IRF;
- d) applications to hold the World Rogaining Championships;
- e) motions put to it by any Officer or Delegate and seconded by any other Officer or Delegate;
- f) annual budgets;
- g) other matters as determined by the Council from time to time.

7. Executive (committee of management)

- (i) The business and affairs of the IRF shall be managed by the Executive (committee of management). The Executive may, subject to this Constitution, exercise all such powers and functions as may be exercised by the IRF other than those that are required to be exercised by the Council (see Clause 6) and perform all such acts and things as appear to the Executive to be essential for the proper management of the IRF.
- (ii) The Executive of the IRF shall comprise the Officers of the IRF, namely:
 - a) President
 - b) Vice President
 - c) Secretary
 - d) Treasurer

and the Administrative Managers of the IRF, namely:

- e) Promotion/Development Manager
- f) World Championships Manager
- g) Technical Manager
- h) VRA International Liaison Manager

- (iii) The Council shall elect the Executive of the IRF.
- (iv) The term of office shall be three years. Elections of the various positions shall occur in different calendar years in the four year cycle so that the Executive undergoes gradual change rather than all positions becoming vacant together. Elections in the three year cycle shall be held as follows.
President, Vice President and Promotion/Development Manager– 2013 and every third calendar year thereafter.
Secretary and World Championships Manager - 2014 and every third calendar year thereafter.
Treasurer, Technical Manager and VRA International Liaison Manager– 2015 and every third calendar year thereafter.
- (v) No Officer shall serve more than two consecutive terms in the same executive position.
- (vi) Nominations for Executive positions shall be in writing to the Secretary. The Secretary shall call for nominations at least six weeks before the close of nominations which shall be at least three weeks before the last date of voting. If no nominations are received, the Executive can extend or reopen the nomination period.
- (vii) Any person may nominate themselves or another person (with that person’s consent) for an Executive position. For each Executive position, if only one nomination is received, that person will be declared elected. If more than one nomination is received, Council will vote by non-secret ballot. If no candidate receives an absolute majority of votes cast, a second ballot will be held to choose between the two candidates who polled most in the first ballot.
- (viii) In the event of a deadlock in voting that cannot be resolved by this Constitution, the President is empowered to take whatever actions the President deems necessary to resolve that deadlock.
- (ix) Officers elected at a meeting shall take office at the close of that meeting except that if elections are held at a Meeting in conjunction with a World Rogaining Championships, the newly elected members of the Executive will take office on the day following the finish of those Championships.
- (x) An Executive position becomes vacant if the Executive member:
 - (a) is removed from office at any time by a Council resolution; or
 - (b) becomes an insolvent within the meaning of the Corporations law; or
 - (c) resigns from office by notice in writing given to the Secretary or President.
- (xi) Should a vacancy in an Executive position need to be filled before the due date for election for that position, Council may appoint a person to that position by a simple majority vote. Alternatively, Council may choose to call for nominations as defined above. In every case, the appointment is for the remainder of the term of office as defined by the three year schedule and a new election will be held at the scheduled time.

8. Executive meetings

- (i) The Executive must meet at least twice a year.
- (ii) Meetings may be held in person or by other means as determined by the Executive.
- (iii) Executive members shall be notified at least two days before the date of any meeting.
- (iv) The quorum for an Executive meeting shall be four of which at least two shall be Officers.
- (v) Any business raised by any IRF Councillor may be conducted at an Executive meeting. (This clause does not alter the requirement for specific decisions to be made by Council as specified elsewhere in this constitution).
- (vi) Decisions made by the Executive shall be determined by a simple majority of all Executive members who vote on that matter, with the vote being taken in such manner as the person presiding at that meeting may determine.
